Mr. John Eick, residing on Roger avenue, third ward, died this morning at eight o'clock, of paralysis. The funeral will be held at the house on Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Funeral services over the remains of William Schuman were held at the Salvation Army barracks this afternoon. The Rev. Thomas Walker officiated, the ceremony being that of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The Rev. Joseph Waite officiated at the funeral of Mrs. Emeline Wells this morning. Services were held at the home of Misses Sue and Olive Parker in the second ward, and the remains were then taken to Milwaukee for interment.

"They tell me the college boys in Beloit have organized a 'Skeo Club' remarked a charming second ward maiden this morning. "Janesville boys don't have to do that. Judging from the clothes they eat they have 'skeo' enough without."

Maria L. Blesedale's suit against J. R. Blesedale, is still being heard. Another divorce case that will soon come to trial is that of Clara A. Salsman, against T. J. Salsman. Mrs. Salsman avers that she was left without even the necessities of life.

James F. Spohn was caught in the gears of an upright engine at T. E. Sayre's warehouse this afternoon and was badly hurt about the head and arms. When taken to his home on Franklin street he was insensible, but his condition is now much improved.

Mrs. John Costello died in her home in the first ward last evening. Her death was due to an apoplexy, but more to gradual breaking down of old age. Three children are left, two being married. Funeral services will probably be held from St. Patrick's church on Thursday morning.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will meet with Mrs. W. Bostwick, corner of Center and High streets, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies of the church, whether members of the society or not to be present at the meeting.

To-day the Soldiers' Relief commission arrives to the county clerk a list of thirty-two applicants whom they considered worthy of assistance. Nine were from Janesville and eleven from Beloit. The entire amount to be paid out between now and April, is $900; $2,000 is left for the remainder of the year.

Captain Phiny Norcross has bought the hard ware stock of Mr. E. Hall and has placed it in charge of F. S. Winslow. Mr. Hall is preparing to remove his dry goods and millinery stock from Roger street to the stand lately occupied by W. W. Wheeler. His business has grown within its present quarters are too small to furnish suitable accommodation.

"Ho, ho, ho!" scoffed a good-natured west side bank clerk, "what tally that stuff about counterfeit money is anyway. 'No man that kept his eyes opened would ever be fooled in the world.' And then he went out to make some collections and the very first coin he took in he found an hour later to be a lead dollar that looked as though it had been made in a blacksmith shop."

The next thing that the Business Men's club should do," said a west side merchant this morning, "is to send a good staff committee of shippers to interview the managers of the Northwestern road. The road should be asked to trade the single-roofed depot to that answers for a Janesville depot to some second-hand store, and replace it by a building of respectable proportions. Enough patronage comes from Janesville to warrant the furnishing of a depot that would be a credit to the city."

"It will be 'ladies choice' at the Army on Wednesday evening of next week. Antietam are out and Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music. The floor committee for the evening will consist of Misses Cora Stanton, Lottie Plowright, Anna Dilzer and May Fincham. There is a reception committee besides and this is also composed of ladies. Miss Eda Buchholz is at the head and with her are Misses Carrie Winkley, Mattie Blakely, Emma J. Annan, Ella King and Amelia Karpfenberg, and Mrs. Arthur Jenkins.

Literary club's entertainment last evening, won much applause. The club program was a good one throughout. It contained a number of new features, that drew forth much praise. At the next meeting the evening's entertainment will conclude with a debate on the relative advantages of city and country life. J. B. Rayer will pose as the representative of the horry-handed, granger, while S. C. Burdum will uphold the interests of the metropolis.

Mr. J. M. O'Hare, the local agent for the "Battles and Leaders of the Civil War"—the reprint of the war articles published in the Century Magazine during the past few years together with much other interesting matter never before published—is now delivering the numbers to subscribers. Those who have not yet subscribed for this most interesting publication should avail themselves of this opportunity to secure it. It is printed in numbers, in splendid style, and is profusely illustrated, and when bound will make for old soldiers especially a "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Mr. John M. Kuehl, of Kneff, Allen & Co., will remember the 9th of January, 1888, that day being his fifty-second birthday. It was duly celebrated at his home in the Second ward. Mrs. Kneff planted a happy surprise party on her husband, and in accordance with these plans a large number of intimate friends assembled in the evening, and the Kneff household resounded with merriment during the entire evening. Smith's orchestra was present and furnished music for dancing. Choice refreshments were served and all present wished Mr. Kneff many returns of his birthday anniversary.

STOCK TO THE CHARTER. Aldermen Have a Right to Control City Bill.

By reference to the council proceedings, published in the Gazette this evening, it will be seen that there is a little "unpleasantness" existing between some members of the council and the street commissioner. Mr. John Brown, growing out of his refusal to certify to certain bills, of which he had no knowledge. Perhaps it is a good thing that this matter came to the front at this time, as it may lead the council to transact city business in accordance with the requirements of the charter.

The bill of Edward E. Smith appears to have been controlled by Ald. Rooney, without the authority of the common council, that gentleman admitting in the debate that he had Smith to do the work.

The bill of Jacob Heller is for seven and a half days' work in the various wards and on the bridge—according to his own itemized bill, which includes labor on Sunday. Clerk Panton has carefully compared this bill with the street commissioner's book, and also his own records, and by this comparison, he finds that after giving Heller credit for all the money drawn, taking his own time, he is only entitled to $6.75, instead of $11.35.

The charter expressly prohibits the paying of such bills, except on a certificate of the street commissioner, and that officer not having personal knowledge of the work, wisely withholds his signature.

It is hoped that the discussion on these bills will bring about an enforcement of the charter in all such matters. No alderman is authorized to contract for work on behalf of the city—that is reserved by the common council. No alderman has a right to interfere with street work, except in the council chamber as a member of the common council. The charter expressly says all street work shall be performed by the street commissioner, under the orders of the common council—not an alderman.

For some years the aldermen have been in the habit of ignoring the charter and doing much costly ward work without permission of the council, sometimes having an order passed for the work after it has been performed and paid for—thus running the wards frequently "head-over-heels" in debt. They have frequently paid bills of the street commissioner into obeying the individual orders of the aldermen, so that officer appears more as a "figure head" than as the real executive officer of the council. Aldermen frequently hire men and teams and set them to work, certify to pay rolls, and send the bills to the council.

This system of doing city business runs all through the municipal government—aldermen pass resolutions, and designate one or more of their number to execute the same—and when money is paid on such service the signature of the alderman or committee having it in charge goes through the auditing committee without question.

They seem to think all officers outside of their charmed circle incapable of doing work for which they have been specially appointed or elected.

Therefore, the Gazette is of the opinion, and believes that a large majority of the taxpayers will stand by it, when it declares that it is time to enforce the charter regarding the authority of the common council and its individual members. No alderman whatever is given an alderman outside of the council chamber—except it be as a peace officer. In the council he is "all-powerful" provided he is in the majority and holds fast to the charter.

The charter is supposed to have been made by the people, for protection against the encroachments of just such aldermen as these, yet the aldermen act as though the charter was only for their convenience—their private being unimportant. Half of the city money is thus wasted, for the reason that the council never investigates the little "crooked" tests—some member being identified directly or indirectly with almost every bill. Now, if one councilman attended strictly to the business he laid down in the charter, each member would be at liberty to question and investigate the acts of any executive officer, and all trouble would be at an end. No more bills hanging for want of money to pay No more in debt. If our city is to be a city, or citizen, contracts a bill against the city contrary to law, let him pay for it. Stop it right here.

Ald. Rooney is now made the target to be fired at. Other aldermen are deep in the same line. But let the council make the test case even if they have to pass the hat to help their colleague out.

Street Commissioner Brown, in withholding his certificate from such bills, will be upheld by taxpayers, and the council make the test case even if they have to pass the hat to help their colleague out.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

Some Important Business Considered by the Common Council Last Evening.

A Little "Unpleasantness" Between the Street Commissioner and Aldermen.

Two Fall Men Employed in the Fire Department—Theatrical Licenses.

A regular meeting of the common council was held last evening at the council chamber, being the first meeting in four weeks. Mr. President Farnham in the chair and all the aldermen answered to their names except Ald. Casey, C. C. McLean, Rooney and Smith.

The clerk read the journal of the last meeting which was approved.

Pending the reading Ald. Casey and Rooney came in and took their seats.

The clerk presented a batch of bills against the various funds, which were referred to the finance committee.

The city treasurer's report for the month of December was referred to the finance committee, also the November and December reports of the board of education, the former showing expenditures of $1,038.30, and the latter $2,733.45 referred to committee on schools.

The bonds of Maxwell & Co., and the application of Shaugnessy & Co., for the transfer of license to the former; also the bonds of John Connors and John Dawson, and the application of Connors & Callen, for the transfer of license were received, referred to judiciary committee and license committee, and subsequently reported back favorably and transfers authorized.

The clerk read a notice from the secretary of the Sack company, notifying the council of the election of Harry Merrill as a member of that company.

Ald. Carpenter of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills against the several funds, aggregating as follows:

General fund	$2,733.45
First ward fund	250.00
Second ward fund	250.00
Third ward fund	250.00
Fourth ward fund	250.00
Fifth ward fund	250.00
Fire department fund	11.45
Total	$3,743.90

The report was concurred in. Ald. Carpenter read the following: Janesville, Wis., Dec. 12th, 1887. City of Janesville to Edward E. Smith, Dr.:

In Third Ward, 84 days' work, $8.00—$6.75. I hereby certify that the above is correct. R. J. ROONEY, Ald. 3rd Ward.

[This bill is made out on the usual blank prepared by the city for such purposes.] Ald. Carpenter—in the opinion of the finance committee this bill is not properly certified, and the committee report it back for the proper signature.

Ald. Thoroughgood—I see the bill is certified by Ald. Rooney; what more is wanted?

Ald. Carpenter—I would like to hear from the city attorney on this point. The city attorney then read from the city charter showing that all bills for street work must be certified by the street commissioner before being allowed by the council.

Ald. Rooney—This bill is all right. The only trouble is that the street commissioner and this man are not on good terms.

Ald. Thoroughgood—The street commissioner ought to attend the meetings of this council in order to certify to these bills. This is not the only one, there are several belonging to the second ward.

Ald. Carpenter suggested that perhaps the street commissioner might have reasons for withholding his certificate.

Ald. Thoroughgood—Who hired this man to do this work, and where was it? Ald. Rooney—I hired him; the work was on the "sand road" in the third ward. The city attorney gave the council another "pointer," indicating that an alderman had no business to hire men to perform street work, and that in order for Mr. Smith to get his pay he would be obliged to secure the certificate of the street commissioner, or perhaps make an "adjustment" in accordance with the charter. The bill was laid over.

Ald. Carpenter of the finance committee, reported back the November report of the city treasurer as correct. Placed on file.

Ald. Horn, of the highway, street and bridge committee, to whom had been referred the claim of Jacob Heller for seven and one-half days' work, stated that the committee had examined the books of the city clerk and also the time book of the street commissioner, and both agreed regarding Mr. Heller's work. Mr. Heller had made out his bill giving days and date. He was a poor man and ought to be paid, but somehow the street commissioner refused to certify to the bill.

Ald. Carpenter—It was the same way with the Smith bill. But wasn't some of Heller's time put in for Sunday work?

Ald. Horn—The first bill made out by a friend of Heller's was so, but this last one is not.

The city attorney informed the council that no action could be taken on the bill, for the same reason as stated in the Smith bill.

Ald. Horn—As chairman of the highway, street and bridge committee I am tired almost to death by men claiming from one half to one day's time which the street commissioner refused to certify. This matter ought to be thoroughly investigated, and the council informed why the street commissioner withholds his certificate from such bills.

Ald. Thoroughgood—There is some such discrepancy in the Second ward.

Ald. Judd—I think the street commissioner ought to attend all meetings of the council in order to explain these matters.

Ald. Carpenter—I move that the street commissioner be requested to attend all regular meetings of the council. Adopted.

Ald. J. B. McLean, of the fire department committee, read a letter from Mr. E. B. Chandler, of the Gamewell fire alarm company, relating to the using of the fire alarm before it was completed.

On motion of Ald. McLean, the fire department committee was authorized to repair the roof of the west side engine house. Also to clean the roof of snow. Ald. Horn stated that justifiable complaints had been made on account of the street railway running their sleighs all over the city, to the great injury of the livermen. When permission was given to run sleighs instead of cars it was understood they would keep on the line of the tracks, but they had not done so. They were running all over the city for five and ten cents fares.

There was considerable discussion on the question of the right of the street car company to so use the streets.

Ald. J. B. McLean moved that the city marshal enforce the ordinance in relation to the street railway, keeping the cars in the line of the tracks. Adopted.

Ald. Horn offered the following ordinance: The Mayor and the Common Council of the city of Janesville do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That the ordinance passed by said common council, July 25th, 1887, and numbered one hundred and twenty-three (123) in relation to the opera house of Peter Meyers and the hall of Thomas Leppin, and amendatory to ordinance numbered ninety-seven (97), and entitled "an ordinance to provide for the licensing of shows and exhibitions," be and the same is hereby repealed.

The ordinance was read the first and second times and laid over under the rules.

Ald. J. B. McLean, of the fire department committee, moved that the committee be instructed to hire two men, one for each engine house, at thirty-five dollars per month each, their pay to commence on the 10th of the present month.

Ald. Horn thought there ought to be three men, as there was plenty of work for the men to do. The motion caused a random discussion of considerable length, some of the aldermen favoring three men, but the majority seemed to coincide with Ald. McLean, by hiring two men now, and if necessary the third man could be secured at a later period.

Ald. Thoroughgood—that the street commissioner be instructed to clean the snow from the bridge sidewalks after every snow. Adopted.

Ald. J. B. McLean—that the clerk cause the mailing for the council room to be delayed before being placed back on the floor. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. J. B. McLean, the council adjourned.

NOT A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The Janesville Tobacco Market Refuses to Live Up.

New Years left the local leaf dealers in rather a sudden frame of mind. And worst of it is, they haven't recovered yet. Ever since '87 went out and '88 came in, sales have been few and amounts small. Last year's crop has found buyers to a certain extent, prices striking close to ten cents, in the bundle.

Most of the leaf has now been stripped and buyers can find no better time to examine and set their prices. As a rule the growers are willing to sell if they can clear themselves and have a modest margin left for the year's work.

In the eastern states matters are as quiet as they are here while in New York city the dullness prevailing last week has extended to this one, and buyers have been as scarce as strawberries at this season. The trade was busy finishing up their inventory and shipping back-orders.

Of new transactions there were hardly enough to make one decent bill. But better things are hoped for as the new year will roll on.

THE FIRST NATIONAL.

The stockholders meet in annual session this morning.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank was held this morning.

Little of public interest was done except in the election of directors. The old board was returned without change. The members are as follows: J. D. Rexford, F. S. Eldred, R. J. Richardson, Birum Merrill, C. B. Conrad, Cyrus Miner and A. P. Lovejoy.

The officers for the year have not yet been elected. They will be chosen as soon as the organization of the directors can be completed.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

At the regular communication of Janesville Lodge No. 55, A. P. and A. M., held last evening at Mercantile hall, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

W. M.—Thomas E. Cook. S. W.—John Slightam. J. W.—Hugh Menzies. Treas.—J. A. Blount.

Sec.—W. F. Ascherast, Jr. S. D.—J. T. Wilcox. J. D.—J. Lloyd. Stewards—N. McKicker and J. B. Storrs.

Hon. Fennel Kimball acted as Grand Master, and A. S. Lee as Grand Marshal. THE BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Every chair was occupied at the room of the Business Men's Association last evening, indicating that under President Nowlan's administration the association has gained in vitality and general interest.

The year just closed has been among the most prosperous in the history of the association, and the class of men and members, now seeking admission shows conclusively that the organization has passed the era of criticism and entered upon one of merited popularity.

The newly elected officers are men who enjoy the confidence of the community to a rare degree. Under their management the association is bound to prosper. The Gazette would emphasize what it has often repeated, that every business man in the city should be a member of the Business Men's Association. Let us demonstrate in 1888 the strength of united effort in the interest of our city.

Who is Your Best Friend? Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. If you must smoke and drink until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink and smoke more in the evening, and it will tell you less. If you are troubled with heartburn, Dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, biliousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Fourth Annual Election of the Business Men's Association.

List of Stockholders in the Lewis Knitting Works—The Banquet.

The annual meeting of the Janesville Business Men's Association was held in the association's rooms, Phoenix block last evening. President O. P. Nowlan occupied the chair, there being a good attendance.

The journal of the previous meeting was read and approved.

Messrs. W. C. Wheeler, Geo. M. McKee, Stuart A. Chase, F. A. Bennett, G. Cogswell, Fred. Marshall, H. P. Palmer, J. M. Bostwick, S. P. Hoskins, John G. Saxe and H. L. McNamara were duly elected members of the association.

Mr. C. B. Conrad, treasurer, submitted his annual report, showing a handsome balance in the treasury. The report was adopted.

Captain Phiny Norcross, of the committee appointed to secure the money or loan to secure the location of the Lewis Knitting works in this city, submitted the following report:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Business Men's Association:—Your committee to whom was referred the matter of soliciting subscriptions to a loan of $15,000 to the Lewis Knitting Works, of Portland, Me., upon the condition that the works should be removed to and permanently located here, beg leave to report.

"That the first five thousand dollars was very easily raised; that the next twenty-one hundred was secured with considerable effort, and their endeavor excited and traded interest in the whole attention of all classes. Meanwhile your committee proposed by letter to the Lewis Brothers that their original proposition should be so modified that they should accept a loan of ten thousand dollars and a gift of some reasonable sum to be used in moving them and their plants to this city. After some talk and correspondence the matter was finally arranged that the five year five per cent. loan should be $10,000 if accompanied with a moving fund of $500.

A meeting of citizens was called at the Myers House parlors. On that evening our subscription fund was raised to $8,000, and a new interest manifested. On the three succeeding days your committee, together with the timely and efficient aid of Messrs. Alex. Richardson and Archie Reid, succeeded in raising the $10,000 loan and $950 towards the moving fund, and to-day we are glad to announce that the balance of the $500 has been fully raised.

We herewith present a list of the names of those persons who have subscribed to the loan:

John Rexford, John H. Jones, W. H. Ascherast, H. S. Woodruff, C. W. Richardson, R. J. Richardson, A. P. Lovejoy, J. M. Bostwick, J. B. McLean, J. D. Rexford, Birum Merrill, C. B. Conrad, Cyrus Miner, A. P. Lovejoy, J. A. Blount, J. T. Wilcox, J. Lloyd, N. McKicker, J. B. Storrs, H. Fennel Kimball, A. S. Lee, W. C. Wheeler, Geo. M. McKee, Stuart A. Chase, F. A. Bennett, G. Cogswell, Fred. Marshall, H. P. Palmer, J. M. Bostwick, S. P. Hoskins, John G. Saxe and H. L. McNamara.

We also give a list of those who subscribed to the $500 moving fund, to-wit:

David Jeffers, A. J. Bennett, C. W. Richardson, Birum Merrill, C. B. Conrad, Cyrus Miner, A. P. Lovejoy, J. A. Blount, J. T. Wilcox, J. Lloyd, N. McKicker, J. B. Storrs, H. Fennel Kimball, A. S. Lee, W. C. Wheeler, Geo. M. McKee, Stuart A. Chase, F. A. Bennett, G. Cogswell, Fred. Marshall, H. P. Palmer, J. M. Bostwick, S. P. Hoskins, John G. Saxe and H. L. McNamara.

At the opera house last evening matters looked a little blue. It was "A Night Out" in audience as well as in play. Bartram & Burdick's company presented what is probably the best of Daly's popular farces in a way that was well worthy of praise, but the empty chairs were too numerous to be inspiring.
